Review: I am dealing with a couple different people at Goldco as they each have their individual role. But they are efficient and very communicative in answering my questions, concerns and giving me pertinent information to make the best informed choices. I highly recommend Goldco for safe investing. They make the switch and the process understandable and tolerable.

Review: My Goldco account executive was very attentive and followed up often with me to ensure my new account was created expeditiously, and that I had a thorough understanding of the valuation of the precious metals investments he was handling on my behalf. The process was fairly simple to follow and Goldco handled the transfer of funds with little disruption. Overall, a very good experience thus far.

Review: This is my second IRA rollover. The first was in the fall of 2022. Not having done this in the past, I wanted to "test the waters." Michael Goldstein was extremely pleasant and walked me through the process for both rollovers. He answered all of my questions and put me at ease. I highly recommend Goldco to anyone wanting to invest their hard earned money into precious metals. I also found it disturbing that after the purchase they entice their buyers to leave a review with The BBB by offering a free home safe. This makes me immediately discount the Goldco 5-star reviews found on The BBB. During research I found that the price for acquiring fine investment-grade silver bullion products is due to the costs associated with mining, refining, manufacturing, minting, silver bullion product form, silver mint hallmark, marketing, hedging, and warehousing the silver bullion products.... but even with all of that the prices should not be, in my opinion, twice the current spot price of silver. This investment is long term and I know the risks involved, but the spot price of silver will need to more than double before I could sell this silver investment for a profit. In retrospect, it was a mistake to place an order with Goldco because their high premium on investment-grade silver bullion. I found Goldco prices to be highly inflated compared to the spot price of silver and the "bid/ask spread". Needless to say, Goldco will not be receiving my IRA.

Initially I had difficulty with Equity correctly communicating with T. Rowe Price in transferring my funds to be utilized with Goldco. Sal Smith went the extra mile in making sure my problem was resolved with them, staying on point directly and enabling me to easily complete my precious metal IRA purchase. The Goldco team again stood up very strong. It's quite refreshing to work with people that care about the customer.

Great experience!!

Everything from the initial request for info to finalizing my rollover was top class. Also included will be quarterly phone calls to discuss my account. That is a nice added bonus. I highly recommend Goldco. For submitting this review, I will be receiving a free safe as well. Another nice bonus.

Review: I was looking for other investment alternatives for our portfolio beside the stock market. I decided to diversify with moving my TSP IRA to a Gold and Silver IRA. In looking for a trusted company I chose Goldco because of their five star rating and the 10% silver incentive. I'll admit that I was skeptical and nervous about venturing into the unknown. Lou, my Goldco representative was kind, confident, patient, and extremely knowledgeable and transparent with my questions and concerns about precious metals. It was also helpful and informative to view the Goldco presentation on line and nice to receive the information packet and a beautiful silver coin in the mail. I am content with my decision to trust Goldco with my IRA. Courteous, caring, and prompt service makes a big difference to me. I think it's important to do the research and not to be afraid to ask questions. I don't mind giving reviews when I have a good experience with a service. It's another plus to receive a free safe for writing a review which makes it well worth my time. Thank you!

Review: I saw one of Goldco's commercials on the TV and called in. I found out that my annuity can be rolled into an IRA with gold in it. It was all set up in just a matter of a few good days. Goldco paid for the 1st year of my fees and sent me a free safe for my silver which arrived in 4 days after I paid.

Thank you Kevin. I would recommend Kevin Douglas to anyone looking to buy or invest in gold and silver. He was very sweet and to the point no sales talk. I will definitely make another order though Kevin and Goldco.
